The advances to listener satisfaction being delivered by XM Satellite Radio are hard to underestimate. I drive over 450 miles a week and without XM Satellite Radio my trips would be awful.

I need to be able to hear local weather and traffic information to make my journies as efficient as possible so that I may contribute to the success of the US economy by making my traveling safe and without wasting any precious resources because of delays caused by traffic delays.

It makes no sense at all for the NAB to be trying to kill the choice of a consumer to hear about traffic and weather through XM Satellite Radio.
